104 Divine Perfection

This essence carries the quality of divine perfection. In the original state of creation all is created perfectly. This is where each soul has their own individual divine expression. All aspects are in alignment with each other and in perfect harmony.

This essence brings you into contact with your complete soul potential. All aspects that were, are and will be, lived in past, present and future can be experienced; and it supports you to be in harmony with yourself in every moment. This essence brings alignment for your path and awakens resonances for the divine perfection so that it can find an expression on Earth. It brings you into contact with the perfect divine blueprint that underlies all and to live your life in harmony with it. It is like a magnet that attracts to you your own divine vibration.
